THELMA TODD DEATH PROBE CONTINUES

BLONDE ACTRESS THOUGHT VICTIM OF AUTO FUMES

Wife of Ford, Actor, Tells of Phone Conversation Sunday Afternoon

BODY FOUND ON MONDAY

Several Theories Being Probed; Locked Out of House, Partner Says

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17—(INS)—A new mystery developed today in the death of Thelma Todd, gay blonde film comedienne and a cafe proprietor.

Mrs. Wallace Ford, wife of the motion picture actor, revealed she had talked with Miss Todd at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Until Mrs. Ford made her sensational disclosure to police detectives it was believed Miss Todd, whose body was found at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in a garage near her cafe, had been dead for more than 24 hours.

"We had invited Miss Todd to a cocktail party at our home Sunday afternoon," Mrs. Ford told the officers. "She telephoned me about 4 o'clock in the afternoon to explain she would be a little late, and asking me if she could bring another guest. I told her that I could be agreeable, of course. I know Miss Todd's voice, having talked with her frequently, and I can say definitely it was she who spoke to me."

Probe Extortion Notes

A revelation that Miss Todd had received fresh extortion notes recently caused the investigators to delve into every angle of her death before announcing final findings.

The officers also were investigating a report Miss Todd had been seen on Hollywood boulevard about 11 o'clock Sunday morning in an expensive tan phaeton in which her body later was found.

The brain and heart of Miss Todd were to be examined today to complete the autopsy, first findings of which indicated she had been an accidental victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

County Coroner Frank Nance's autopsy surgeons announced they had found definite traces of carbon monoxide gas in the actress' blood. They also found that the ignition of her automobile was turned on, although the motor was not running.

Findings of the traces of the deadly gas revised an early police theory that Miss Todd had died from a heart attack. This was not abandoned altogether, however, as Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Todd, Thelma's mother, told authorities Thelma recently had been "turned down" by a life insurance company because of a heart ailment.

Four theories of the cause of death were under investigation. They were murder, suicide, accidental death from the monoxide poisoning and death from natural causes.

Changes Theory

Mrs. Todd at first expressed belief her daughter had been murdered and then said:

"Perhaps a heart attack caused her death. Thelma had been turned down for life insurance because of her heart."

Roland West, movie producer and director, and friend of Miss Todd, said she never had climbed

ALTHOUGH an immediate investigation was begun by Santa Monica, Cal., authorities into the sudden death of Thelma Todd, blonde screen comedienne, whose body was found in a garage near her famous seashore cafe, Casalamar, it was believed Miss Todd died of a heart attack. The actress recently was the recipient of extortion notes and veiled death threats, which were mailed either in San Francisco or New York. Threats to "blow up" her resort also were contained in the notes. Miss Todd, who recently divorced Pat DeCico, first appeared in dramatic roles in the films, but her later work, in which she won great acclaim, was in comedy.

County to Receive More Tax Money Than it Paid

Estimates Show $160,936 to Be Allocated to Pickaway in Sales Tax; Collection $112,800

Pickaway-co will be one of the localities in the state which will receive more in sales tax distributions than was collected in the county.

In an estimate prepared by the sales tax division, county citizens will have paid out in sales taxes at the end of 1935 $112,800, but the total allocated back to the county will be $160,936.

With the exception of Mahoning, other larger counties in the state will receive considerably less than was collected. Authorities explained that distributions to the counties are made on the basis of need and on one general formula applicable to all sections of Ohio regardless of the amounts collected. As a result rural and smaller counties have profited to an appreciable extent by sales tax revenue.

Estimated Figures

The allocations to Pickaway-co based on estimates as of the end of the year, include:

Total collected, $112,800.
Total allocated, $160,936.
Schools, $76,445.
Government funds, $17,941.
Old age pensions, $46,778.
Poor relief, $1,559.
Relief bonds, $10,247.
Discounts, $3,496.

An example of how the more populous counties suffered is seen in figures for Franklin-co which will have paid out $3,619,680, while allocations total $2,768,762. Hamilton-co will have paid out $5,158,720, receiving $4,922,107; Cuyahoga will have paid out $10,022,000 and received $9,756,000.

Greater Yield Seen

The division estimated its total collections on the basis of the sales tax netting $43,000,000 for 1935. Next year, allocations back to the counties are expected to increase due to the more stringent provisions in the new law, which authorities predict will yield approximately 10 millions more in revenue.

German Asks That Condon Also Undergo Examination of "Lie" Machine

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—(INS)

Believed possibly to be on a mysterious mission in connection with Bruno Richard Hauptmann's attempt to escape the electric chair for the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman and Attorney General David Wilentz of New Jersey arrived here today.

Wilentz registered at a hotel but Hoffman failed to register.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17—(INS)

Two important steps were to be taken today by Bruno Richard Hauptmann's lawyers in their desperate last-ditch fight to save the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby from the electric chair.

First they will visit him in his death house cell in Trenton to get his signature on the formal application for a hearing of his case by the New Jersey court of pardons.

Then they will make a formal request that the Bronx carpenter be given a "lie detector" test to aid the pardons court in its deliberations.

Would Include Condon

The request for the lie detector test was made by Hauptmann himself in a letter to Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey, made public yesterday. The prisoner said he hoped this request might "inspire Dr. John Condon ('Jafie,' of the ransom negotiations) to do the same."

Governor Hoffman, when questioned about Hauptmann's letter, intimated that he would favor allowing the prisoner to take the lie detector or "truth serum" test and take the findings before the court of pardons.

The executive also said he was thinking of "making a deal" with

OHIO STUDENTS MUST HONOR FLAG-BRICKER

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17—(INS)

Attorney General Bricker today ruled that boards of education in Ohio have authority to make and enforce rules compelling all pupils in public schools to salute the American flag and pledge allegiance to it.

His formal ruling to E. L. Bousher, state director of education, will enable school authorities to punish students for infraction of this rule the same as for disobedience to any other law of discipline. Informal opinions expressed by state officials previously inferred that educational officials are without authority to force pupils to obey such rules.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the common pleas courtroom.

LAVAL DEMANDS VOTE OF 'FAITH'

Bitter Attack Made on His Peace Plan in Chamber

PARIS, Dec. 17—(INS)—Premier Pierre Laval won a vote of confidence on the first count in the chamber of deputies this afternoon on the question of his foreign policy.

The vote was 310 to 250, the Ethiopian peace proposals being the main point at issue.

PARIS, Dec. 17—(INS)

Aroused by a bitter attack upon his peace plan in the chamber of deputies this morning, Premier Pierre Laval this afternoon demanded the chamber give him a vote of confidence before he would leave for Geneva to take part in debate of the plan.

Laval stated plainly he would stake his fate as Premier upon the issue of the widely-attacked peace proposals rather than go to Geneva without the support of the chamber, which had scored him bitterly for drawing up the plan.

EX-PRESIDENT FAVORS 4-POINT NATIONAL PROGRAM

HOOVER CLAIMS ADMINISTRATION HURTING NATION

St. Louis Scene of Talk; Waste, Folly, Chiseling, Corruption Expressions Used

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The nation today considered former President Herbert Hoover's four-point program to replace the Roosevelt relief administration which, he declared, harbors waste, folly, chiseling and petty corruption.

In an address before the John Marshall Republican club here last night, the former president soundly and roundly played the administration, and with biting and bitter sarcasm aimed his vitriolic words at "the tragedy" of the administration's relief "wastes and follies."

Declaring that some increase in relief has been necessary since March 4, 1933, he said, "but an increase of 300 per cent in costs in the face of a 5 per cent decrease in unemployment load is significant."

"Poisoned With Politics"

Charging that relief bread is poisoned with politics, the former president offered as an alternative to the Roosevelt setup:

1. "Stop these wasteful federal public works projects; confine them to projects which meet the needs of the nation."
2. "Decentralize the administration of all other forms of relief. Turn them back to the states and local communities. Do it in joint co-operation with the governors, mayors and county authorities. Enlist again the voluntary services of American men and women on a non-partisan basis. Give such responsible committees as they create the entire determination of how it should be done. Allot to the states less than one-half the present funds being spent in the relief. Require the local authorities to find from their local funds at least 5 per cent as a check on waste. Require the state to do its share. Discharge most of the federal officials connected with these relief agencies. The unemployed will be better cared for than they are today."

Further Obligation

4. "We have a further obligation beyond relief to this ten million unemployed. True relief must come from honest productive jobs, not from public funds. Those jobs would return quickly if the currency were stabilized and this torrent of unnecessary expenditure were stopped and the budget were balanced. That would create confidence in the future. It would relieve the threat of inflation which demoralizes all business and sets up false recoveries. It would start men building again for the future. It would bring into action the vast amount of improvement needed in housing and in machinery, now being worn out through seven years of obsolescence. It would set free the energies of new enterprise. These people on relief have suffered enough from having playboys take America apart to see how the wheels go round."

Declaring "we have been governed by paradoxes and contraries and complexities," Mr. Hoover struck again and again at "the federal bureaucracy" which has found relief jobs "for over 140,000 new federal officials." In appointing these new federal pay-rollers, he said, the civil service commission was ignored by the Roosevelt administration "and the spoils system substituted."

Regular Transatlantic Hops Nearer Realization

WITH the announcement from Washington of an agreement between the United States and England, Ireland and Canada for mutual exchange of landing privileges and other facilities the long-talked-about establishment of regularly scheduled air service from the United States to Europe approaches realization. Aviation authorities predict that experimental giant mail planes of the China Clipper type will be hopping back and forth across the Atlantic even as early as 1936. Two transatlantic routes are under consideration, a northern route via Harbor Grace, N.F., and a southern route to Bermuda, shown on above map. According to observers, four flights weekly eventually will be made. The northern (and shorter) route could be used in summer, the southern route in winter.

New Social Security Act

Explanation of Act Effective January 1
No. 4—OLD AGE PENSIONS

This is the fourth of six articles explaining the new federal social security act, which will go into effect Jan. 1.

Written for Central Press and The Circleville Herald

By DALE COX
Financial Writer of Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is estimated that around 25,000,000 employees will qualify at the outset for the old age pension plan of the Social Security act. In 1937 these 25,000,000 employees and their employers will pay into the federal treasury around $500,000,000 in taxes. By 1949 they will be paying three times that amount, or $1,500,000,000, assuming as many employees are then paying under the act.

Naturally, many administrative problems come to mind. It is provided in the act that wages do not necessarily mean money wages. Other means of payment, such as grocery orders, factory houses or payment in the stock of the company, are to count as wages for purposes of the act, and someone must appraise the value of these wages in terms of money.

An elaborate and complicated arrangement is provided in case an employee dies while contributing toward an old age annuity and before he reaches 65. In that case his estate is paid a percentage of the total wage he has been paid from the time he began making old age pension contributions up until the time of his death.

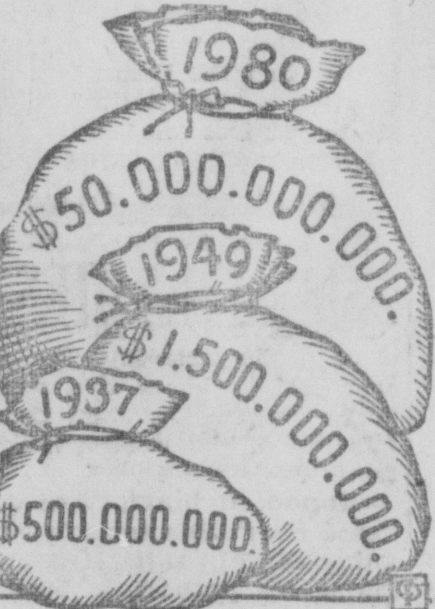

Forces Retirement at 65

The act is deliberately framed to force the retirement of all workers at the age of 65. If a man reaches 65 and continues to work under the act he loses one month of the pension due him each month he continues working after reaching 65.

Naturally, as the years go by, an enormous sum will be assembled under this act from the contributions of employees and employers. The size of the sum, of course, depends upon many uncertain factors. But it has been estimated that the sum, known as the Old Age Reserve Account, will be from $50,000,000,000 to $80,000,000,000 by 1980, assuming, of course, that the act is not repealed or changed for something else before that time. The act requires that the secretary of the treasury invest all the reserve funds of this account in interest bearing obligations of the United States on terms yielding not less than three per cent per annum.

Investment Difficult

Inasmuch as the total national debt of the nation is now around $3,000,000,000, it can be seen how difficult it will be to invest $50,000,000,000 or more in government bonds by 1980. The fund might be large enough to swallow all the obligations of the government. In that case, the reserve fund would be nothing more than the financial stability of the government itself. Financial men declare that the very existence of this huge reserve fund, greater than all the reserve funds of the private insurance companies, would be one of the greatest financial dangers the nation ever faced.

Twenty-five million employees will qualify at the outset for the old age pension plan of the Social Security Act. In the year of 1937 these 25,000,000 and their employers will pay into the federal treasury approximately $500,000,000 in taxes. In 1949 that figure will reach $1,500,000,000; in 1980, $5,000,000,000.

This old age pension feature of the Social Security act is federal controlled. All collections of the tax will be made by federal employees. All record-keeping will be done in Washington. All payments and disbursements to beneficiaries will be made from a central bureau at Washington.

Thousands of Employees Needed

When it is considered that payments will be made under the act by 25,000,000 different individuals, and by tens of thousands of employers, it may be seen how many thousands of employees it will require in Washington to administer the machinery of the old age pension section of the act. Assuming that one federal employee could take care of all the records necessary for 1,000 employees under the act—probably too high a figure—it would require 25,000 additional federal employees in Washington to administer the old age pension section alone. It looks as if the trek of workers to the nation's capital had only started.

So much for the old age pension section of the Social Security act.

Make our buffet servings look more at- ractive and taste more delicious han any you have ever planned. Use new recipes for unusual val- ues. Serving old buffet favorites. In- stead of serving deviled eggs in e same old way, serve glazed deviled eggs. Make them like this:

- Glazed Deviled Eggs
- 12 eggs
 - 1 tsp. mustard
 - 1/2 C mayonnaise
 - 1/2 pkg. lemon gelatin
 - 1 C boiling water
 - Pimiento
 - Green pepper
 - Salt
 - White pepper

Slip eggs into a large quantity of boiling water and cover kettle. Cook 30 minutes, keeping water just below the boiling point. Re- move shells. Cut eggs either length- wise or crosswise. Remove yolk- very carefully so as not to break the whites. Put egg yolks through a fine sieve, adding mustard, may- onnaise, salt and pepper. Put into a pastry bag filled with a rose tube. Fill each egg white. Add tube. Boiling water to gelatin and set in the refrigerator to cool. When congealed to a jelly-like stage, pour a tablespoonful over each egg, and allow to set. Garnish each egg with strips of pimiento and bits of green pepper. Serves 12, allowing a whole egg to each person.

A sandwich loaf is a treat and is enjoyed equally by men and women. This recipe leaves nothing to your imagination:

Sandwich Loaf

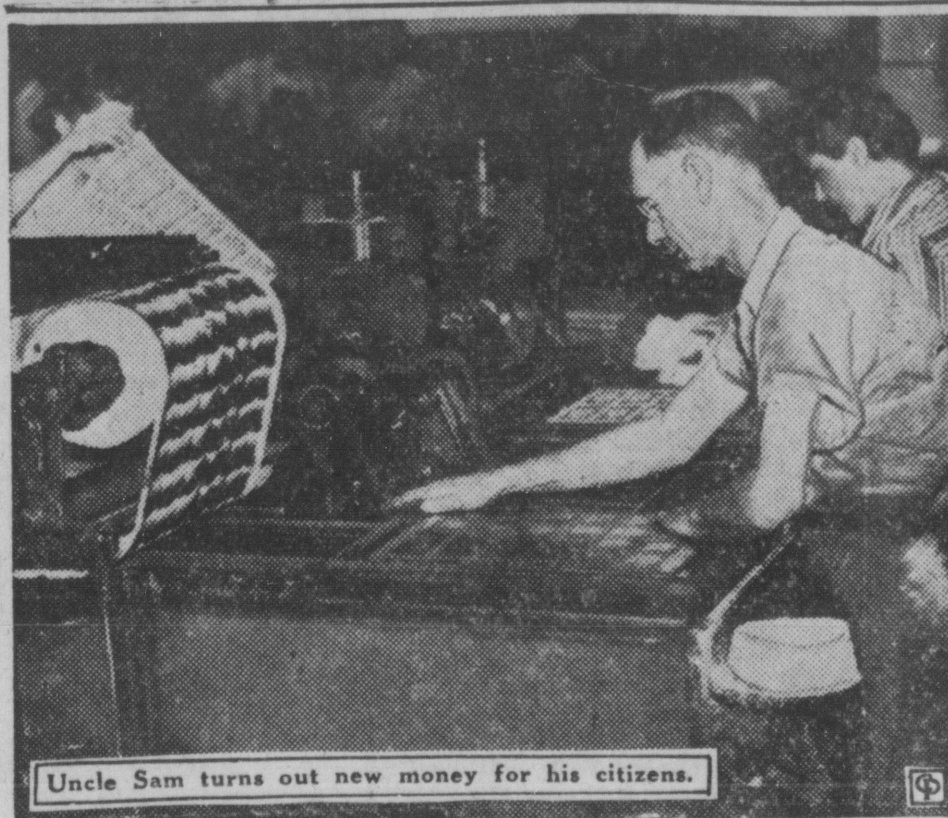

- 1 loaf whole wheat sandwich bread, un- sliced
- 1 loaf white sandwich bread, unsliced
- Butter
- 8 packages cream cheese (3 oz. pkgs.)
- 1 C. dates
- 1/4 C. chocolate nuts
- 4 hard cooked eggs, shelled
- 1 C. minced, cooked chicken
- 1/2 C. evaporated milk
- 1 small bottle stuffed olives
- 1 stalk celery
- 1/2 green pepper
- Pimiento
- Mayonnaise

Remove the crusts from all sides of both loaves of bread. Cut lengthwise into slices about 1/2-inch thick. Use two such slices from each loaf to make a four-layer sandwich loaf.

Spread each slice generously with butter on one side. Then spread one white slice with chop- ped dates, nuts and a 3-oz. package of cream cheese, mixed thoroughly. Now spread one slice of whole wheat bread with chopped eggs seasoned and mixed with mayon- naise. Spread other white slice with minced chicken mixed with mayonnaise. Place these one on top of the other alternating the white and whole wheat slices, and top with fourth slice.

Put milk to remaining cream cheese and use to spread entire loaf, sides and top, reserving enough for decorating. Decorate with cheese forced through a pas- try tube, and with slices of stuffed olives. The green pepper and pimiento may be used as garnishes or the platter, along with radish roses and celery curls. The mix- ture used for the filling between the slices may be varied to suit your taste.

They hope to have this done by Christmas so that they may start work on gas en- gines after the holidays.

Mr. Sponser went to North Bal- timore, Mr. Deckroth to Defiance, Miss Andrews to Leipsic, O., Miss Grimm to Columbus, Mr. Lanman remained in Walnut-twp. Mr. Bowne went to Ploua. Miss Jones stayed in Circleville.

Intelligence tests were given to all the high school students last week. It was a new idea in giv- ing and grading tests. Each stu- dent was given a question sheet, an answer pad and a style. With the styles the student punched out one of a choice of squares, cor- responding to the answer that he thought was right on the question sheet.

The answer pads were three sheets pasted together which had on the back designated places where the holes should have been punched through. This compara- tively new idea in tests was con- ducted by the state.

Famed Band Of 58 Years Ago Shown

Enlargement Made of Wit-tich's Organization; Only
Two Members Live Here

By FRANKLIN KIBLER

Fifty-eight years ago a Circle- ville band with the late T. K. Wittich as its director made musi- cal history in Pickaway-co.

The organization, comprised of about 20 men, was considered one of the finest small town bands in the state. The band played in Dayton, Cleveland, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Washington C. H., Wilmington and many other cities.

Presented by Member

The band will be immortalized in a photographic enlargement presented to the public library last week by Edward Wittich, W. Main-st., a clarinet player in the band, and a brother of the leader.

The enlargement was obtained from a photograph owned by Col. C. E. Groce. The picture, taken in 1877, included the musical organi- zation and the Circleville Guards of which Col. Groce was the lead- er. The enlargement of the band alone was made by the Steddom studio.

Mr. Wittich explained only two members of the band now reside in Circleville, himself, and Dr. E. J. Lilly.

Members of the original band were: Al Krimmel, Al and Rance Washburn, George Millet, E. J. Lilly, William Bauder, Franze Moeller, Ed Himrod, Elisha Him- rod, David Beavers, R. P. Dres- bach, William Veith, T. K. Wit- tich, M. Wittich, George Baker, Ed Wittich, Leonard Keller and John McColister. Mr. Krimmel was the drum major.

Went to Washington

After the dissolution of the orig- inal Wittich band, Ed Wittich or- ganized a band here that journey- ed to Washington D. C. in 1902 with the Masonic Commandary of Columbus to participate in the tri- annual convolve.

The gift to the Library is on display in the central hall.

HOODLUM AGAIN POINTED OUT AS EDITOR'S KILLER

Minneapolis Grand Jury to Be Called Today to Indict
Blumenfeld

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 17.—(17)—A second identification of Isadore Blumenfeld, alias Kid Cann, as the man who poured five machine gun bullets into Walter Liggett, crusading newspaper editor, will result in a request to the grand jury tomorrow to return a first degree murder charge against Cann, authorities indicated today.

Wesley Andersch, member of a prominent Minneapolis family, signed a statement last night, investigators said today, in which he positively named Cann as the killer of the editor.

Stood Near Auto

Andersch witnessed the assassination while standing but a few feet from the slayers' auto in the alley where Liggett was mowed down as he stepped from his own auto with his arms full of groceries, police said.

Previously his widow, Mrs. Edith Liggett, had positively identified Cann as one of the two men in the death car. She was in the auto with their 10-year-old daughter Marda when her husband was machine gunned to death.

Cann, a notorious police character, had been held in custody since a few hours after the shooting last Monday evening, despite presentation of what police have termed "a good alibi." His alibi witnesses were re-questioned by police last night. It was after this further uizung that officials indicated they would gask Cann's indictment.

In his statement, Anderson said he recognized Cann as they had been fellow workhouse inmates a year ago.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NEWS

Second Grade

The second grade will give a Christmas program with the first and third grades, Friday, Dec. 20. We have a sand table fixed as Santa's home. It has a Santa, Santa's sleigh and reindeer and Santa's home. Snow is on the ground.

Christmas seals are given to all those getting above 70 in numbers. Seals are also given in spelling.

Fourth Grade

Gene Tosca has read all five of his reading circle books for this year. He has his five seasonal seals posted on our chart. Ethel Wallen and Helei Irwin have read three books each. Each child receives a certificate after having read at least three books.

In reading we are acting out the play from our reader called, "The Christmas Fairy and Scrooge" from Charles Dicken's "A Christmas Carol."

For art we are making calendars and cards of brightly colored papers.

The Ashville high school boys basketball teams, played two basketball games over the weekend. The first was played against the Scioto boys and found the Ashville boys easily turning back the Scioto boys by a score of 49-17. The reserve boys also won in a thrilling game by a score of 10-9.

On Saturday night Ashville traveled to Groveport and took the decision from a hot Groveport team. The Groveport lads led the Ashville boys 15-9, at the half and it seemed as if they simply could not miss the basket. However, the Ashville boys came back strong and gradually overtook the Groveport lads, finally winning 29-26, in the most thrilling contest played by them to date. The second team, however, lost to the Groveport team 17-11, altho the score was a tie at the end of the first, second, and third quarters.

The Ashville girls broke even on these games, defeating their old rivals, the Scioto lassies, on Thursday evening and losing to the strong Groveport girls on Saturday night.

Friday evening of this week the Ashville boys and girls will meet the strong Kingston teams at Ashville.

The local P. T. A. will hold its December meeting Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Community Choir will give a program of Christmas music.

GOT THEIR MEN

ST. LOUIS—Two policemen on a downtown beat showed great alacrity in pursuing and capturing a couple of youths they saw fleeing with packages taken from a parked automobile. The car belonged to one of the policemen, Patrolman Claude Shephard. The packages were the property of the other patrolman, Donald Duley and contained a pair of his trousers and a dress belonging to his wife.

Christmas Celebrated for Two Weeks

But That Is In Sweden—and Oh, What Fun the Children Have, and the Grownups, Too!

"Yuletide market" in Stockholm is held the two weeks before Christmas at the oldest market place in the city, called Greatmarket.

Skansen's country Yule market with peasant girls in winter coats of lambskin. The bearded boy in the background is dressed to play "Yule-tomte"—the Swedish Santa Claus.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — No other country celebrates Christmas for such a long time and with such great festivities as Sweden. One of the brightest, gayest customs is the Yuletide market" in Stockholm. It is held the two weeks before Christmas eve on the oldest market place in the city, called Greatmarket. When Stockholm was built, about 900 A. D., Greatmarket was the largest open space in it. Today it is a tiny square too small for automobile traffic.

But at Christmas time Greatmarket becomes once more the heart of Stockholm, crowded with brightly lighted little stands with their home-made goods—decorated wooden toys carved by peasants during the dark winter evenings, copper pots and pans, home woven cloth and knitted mittens, and most important of all, the Gingerbread Stand, filled with big cookies made in the traditional shapes of goats, pigs, hearts, and little men and women.

As children we never left the market without a gingerbread man and a big paper covered candy with long fringes almost dragging on the ground.

Grownups Become Young Again

Even grownups forget their dignity and run from booth to booth calling and laughing to each other at the sight of a miniature spinning wheel, or a set of carved farm animals. The proper way to end a visit to the Yule market is by going to the City Mission, one of the finest old houses facing Greatmarket, for the traditional coffee and cookies—14 different kinds!

The Yule bargaining in Greatmarket which has gone on each Christmas since the early twelfth century, is completely a city affair. But to see a country market the Stockholmite need not travel far, just up a little hill in Stockholm itself, to the famous peasant museum Skansen. (The name means battlement, for the hill is one of the old defenses of the city.) It is really wrong to call this whole community of peasant and Lapp homes a "museum," because life goes on there just as though Skansen were one big country village.

A Culture That Has Died

Many of the cottages and gardens on the hill cannot be found anywhere else in Sweden; they are part of a culture that has changed or died, but there are others that are faithful copies of homes existing today in Dalecarlia, the last stronghold of peasant tradition in the north. On Skansen live many natives of Dalecarlia, picturesquely dressed in bright peasant costumes. But even if they lived in an apartment the costume might be worn daily.

It is a strange sight when one of Dalecarlia's dignified members of parliament walks down the street, proudly but naturally dressed in the outfit of his province, long dark coat, bright yellow lambskin vest and red tassels at his knees!

The Skansen peasants live as they might at home, baking, weaving, sewing, embroidering, and for Christmas holidays creating toys of wood and straw-goats. For even on Skansen there is a Yule Market each year.

A "Small Figure" in Sweden

The hilltop museum, 50 years old now, has celebrated this market for 30 years straight. This seems a small figure compared to the hundreds of years that the Greatmarket in the old city has gone on, but in fact Skansen's "country market" may well be older, for the people of Dalecarlia are almost as old as Sweden itself, and their wintermarket, at home or on Skansen, is a tradition going back long before "White Christ" came to the north. It has its roots in the great Midwinter Sacrifice to the sun, or Yuletide of the Vikings.

JURORS' REPORT NO INDICTMENT

Evidence in Harter Charges
Against Poulson Thin

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—

If there is an investigation of State Rep. George Harter's charges that certain members of the legislature were offered state jobs to oppose his resolution for an inquiry into the liquor department, it will have to be ordered by Gov. Martin L. Davey who today showed no disposition to call for it.

After hearing evidence presented by the Akron assemblyman in support of his charges, the Franklin county grand jury failed to return indictments, deeming the evidence insufficient.

Harter, meanwhile, charged that agents of the governor, including Attorney Francis Durbin, Kenton, an ardent Davey supporter, have been in Akron recently asking permit-holders whether the blind assemblyman accepted a fee for helping to obtain permits.

KIDNAPED HIS WIFE

PANCHAREVO, Bulgaria — Keeping one's divorced wife under lock and key in a basement room for a year is the unique record established by a local man after she left him, he made many attempts at winning her back to him, but without avail. So one evening as she was leaving her house, he grabbed her and dragged her to his home. No one saw or heard and he kept her under lock for over a year. She would have remained under captivity longer had not a municipal assessor's committee come to inspect every part of the house and premises. In court the abductor pleaded that he had resorted to violence because he loved his wife and could not live without her. The court sentenced him to a year of imprisonment.

bright booths where hang the straw-goat images of the god Thor's own chargers, you feel that in this old, dark country the past never can die. The Yule markets in Sweden are an emblem of pride. America's pioneer and Indian past is of the same kind, centered around the one really American holiday, Thanksgiving.

Ham and Potato Souffle Are Cooked by Oven Heat

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Sweet Sour Casserole of Beef or Braised Lamb Neck Slices
Mashed Potatoes Cabbage Salad
Cheese Dates Salt Wafers
Coffee

Inez Willson, home economist, suggests these two recipes to use the less expensive cuts of meat and make appetizing dishes of same. "If it is difficult to stretch the food budget until the end of the month," she says, "instead of reducing the amount, try using some of the less demanded cuts of meat. They lack neither nutritive value nor flavor, and when properly prepared make a main dish which needs no apology." I hope you notice and try the date and cheese for dessert.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Sweet Sour Casserole of Beef—Two pounds beef chuck or brisket, one onion, sliced; one lemon, one bay leaf, three tablespoons sugar, one cup hot water, salt and pepper a little, if desired. Have the beef cut into pieces as for stew. Place it in a baking dish. Add the onion, sliced very thin, and the seasoning. Sprinkle sugar and lemon juice or vinegar over the top. (More sugar and lemon juice or vinegar may be used if a more pronounced sweet-sour flavor is desired. Also dill may be added as desired.) Pour hot water over all, cover, and let cook in a slow oven (300-350 degrees F.) until done, about two hours.

Braised Lamb Neck Slices—Neck slices, cut one inch thick; one cup fine dry bread crumbs, two eggs, beaten; three tablespoons lard, one cup tomato juice, salt and pepper. Have neck slices cut one inch thick. Remove the bones carefully with a small sharp knife. Roll surface with salt and pepper, dip into beaten egg and then into fine dry bread crumbs. Let stand in refrigerator for some time if possible. Brown slices on both sides in hot lard, pour tomato juice over them, and let them simmer slowly on top of the stove or cook in a slow oven (300-350 degrees F.) until done, about one hour. Remove slices to a hot platter and thicken the liquid for gravy.

Cheese Dates—Split and remove stones from dates, and lay flat on a plate. Take some Roquefort cheese and about half as much cream cheese. Put in a bowl and mix with a fork until smooth. Fill the dates with this mixture. Then sprinkle chopped walnuts over the stuffed dates. Serve on a platter garnished with leaves of lettuce, and red and green peppers.

HISS ODD NAME
HOUSTON, Tex.—"Inky," now four years old, is a hale and hearty boy today. The oddly nick-named child is the son of a Houston couple. He derives his appellation from the fact that he is this city's most famous incubator baby. He lived his first three months in the baby incubator at St. Joseph's Infirmary, taking food from an eye dropper because he was too small to be fed any other way. He weighed one pound and one ounce when he was born in November, 1931. Today he tips the scales at 40 pounds.

COW IN THE ZOO

PHILADELPHIA — For 142,000 Philadelphia children who have never seen a cow, the zoo is erecting a model one-half acre farm right in the famous garden. A survey, declared C. I. Cohee, executive secretary of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council, showed that that number of youngsters had no more idea what a cow looked like than—well, than a dodo bird. There'll be chickens, pigs, hay and everything, but the cow will be the feature attraction.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Elks' club for a gala affair New Year's Eve at the club, when it will have its annual holiday dance.

Invitations will be sent to Elks who may also invite their friends. Joseph Adkins, Jr., chairman of the committee in charge, announces that they have secured the best orchestra they could possibly contract for this outstanding affair of the season.

Bill Jordan and his 10-piece band from Springfield, which features a girl vocalist, will furnish music from 10:30 until 3 o'clock. This orchestra is widely-known and has played a number of engagements in the eastern part of Ohio, enjoying an especially good reputation in Dayton and Columbus.

The dance hall will be gayly decorated for the occasion by an interior decorator. Refreshments and a number of surprise features are being planned by Mr. Adkins and his committee comprised of Ben H. Gordon, Dr. G. D. Phillips, A. L. Wilder, Clarence Wolf and Julius Gordon.

Choral Club Solists

Club Christmas Party

Miss Frances Jones, E. Union-st., was hostess Monday evening when she entertained the members of her two table bridge club at their annual Christmas party. Mrs. Robert Bower was a guest.

Monday Club Meeting

The music division was in charge of the program following the business session at the regular meeting of the Monday club last evening in Memorial hall.

Miss Mary Radcliffe, chairman of the division, presented Miss Jane Mader, who read an interesting paper, "Music of Spain." She said in part:

"In Spain the love for music is everywhere evident and through it the Spanish people express their emotions, their love and passion, their beauty and stateliness, their pomp and show, their joy and sorrow, their romance and tragedy, their tenderness and disdain.

"Vibrant and palpitating it touches our very souls, tinged as it is with all of the intoxicating spirit of a race in whose veins flow the blood of Iberian, Celts, Greeks, Romans, Goths, and Moors. Each province boasts a music peculiar to the religion.

"The earliest Spanish music was that of the church and dates back to the seventh century. Following this an entirely different type of song and dance, that of the gypsies."

Mrs. Frank Kline sang one of these beautiful old love songs, "Querida" (My Darling) by A. Seismet Doda.

"The National characteristics fleeted in their dance tunes. All and temperament is most truly the world dances in Spain and the guitar, tambourine and castanets are played with the dance.

"The compositions of Lecuona are recognized by all classes."

COUNTY TO HIRE COMMODITY DIRECTOR

WPA TO FINANCE OTHER WORKERS NEEDED IN TASK

Surplus Supplies to Be Sent Here as Soon as Office is Assured

Preliminary steps toward formation of a county centralized relief agency, to handle the distribution of surplus commodity supplies sent in by the government, were taken by the county commissioners Monday afternoon.

The commissioners have agreed to organize the agency but have taken no definite action on the appointment of a case supervisor. Two persons are under consideration. The appointment must be sanctioned by the state relief department.

Under the federal setup, the commissioners name and pay a case supervisor and the WPA furnishes the additional employees needed to carry on the work. The commissioners also provide a warehouse for storage purposes and the use of a county truck for distribution.

A recent order from the state relief headquarters notified the various county boards that those who fail to set up agencies to determine the eligibility of relief cases will receive no supplies after Dec. 21.

me. Why don't you let me die. Be merciful to me."

But police, who hold the opinion that the hallucinations by drugs caused Miss Sevigny to give Mrs. Normandin an ammonia dose as a "good deed", made plans for arraignment of the defendant on a murder charge.

Extra guards were posted at the cell of the nurse, who begged for the same death she allegedly gave her patient, to balk any possible suicide attempt. She probably will be examined by alienists.

One of her sisters is an inmate of the state hospital at Concord, N. H., and another sister died there a year ago.

"I killed her because I couldn't bear to watch her awful suffering and I wanted to help her." That, according to police, was the reason the nurse gave for administering ammonia to Mrs. Normandin, sufferer from nervous trouble.

Other death cases being investigated were those of Mrs. Arthur Geninas, Mrs. Jacob Kane and Mrs. Frank Lanctot, all of this city. Massachusetts authorities were probing the death of Mrs. Frank Prince, of East Douglas, Mass. Police said Miss Sevigny acted as nurse in these cases. The bodies of the Woonsocket women will be exhumed.

Milne's family and the abductors had been agreed upon, but there were numerous indications that a break in the case was near.

Meanwhile a second ransom note was reported received by Caleb's grandfather in Germantown, Pa., directing that $50,000 be forwarded to the victim's younger brother, Frederic, in New York, in denominations of $10, $20 and $50.

Accompanying the note was a clipping from an Albany newspaper describing young Milne's disappearance. It was stained with blood.

At the Milne home in Thirty-Seventh street last night all was quiet. Frederic Milne and his mother apparently remained there until morning. Shortly before midnight, Frederic and a G-man went out for a brief walk, purchased a newspaper and returned. They were not seen to leave the house again.

Activity at Aunt's

At the home of Miss Anita Smith, Milne's aunt in Woodstock, however, there was considerable activity and an air of tenseness. From top to bottom, the two story cottage was a blaze of lights. All night long automobiles laden with federal men and members of the Scotland Yard division of the state police crept through dark highways and byways in the vicinity of the cottage. In the cars of the federal men were machine and monitor guns, the latter capable of piercing thick plates of armor.

On the east bank of the Hudson, opposite Woodstock, a G-man was stationed in every village and hamlet. Poughkeepsie, from where the first ransom note was mailed, was a beehive of activity.

The latest note received by the missing youth's grandfather read: "One more false move and your name will be finish. Do as the letter says. If you fail, you will find him dead."

"Send $50,000, in denominations of $10, $20 and $50. Take them to New York. Grandson awaiting orders."

SPEEDING FROM POLICE, JAILED AFTER WRECK

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Joe Conrad, 32, was held here today for federal agents after he crashed into a car injuring two persons, in an attempt to elude vice squad officers late Monday.

The injured are Mrs. Josephine Clark and Paul Thompson, both of whom suffered severe cuts on the hands.

Police reported Conrad's car contained 85 gallons of alleged illegal whisky.

the hill to the garage where her body was found because she feared the effect of the exertion on her heart.

In a startling statement to police West revealed he had "locked out" Miss Todd from her apartment.

"Thelma was a very stubborn girl; very independent," West said. "She had been getting home late and as it was necessary for me to stay up and let her in, I told her, when she started for the Cafe Trocadero Saturday night, that she should be home by 2 o'clock in the morning."

"Smiling, she told me she would be home at five minutes after 2 a. m."

West, who owns the building that houses "Thelma Todd's Side-walk Cafe" on the ocean front near Santa Monica, and who occupies an apartment in the cafe building, said that at 2 a. m. he locked the door.

"I stayed awake until 2:30 a. m., then retired," he said. "At about 3:30 I was awakened by the whining of my bulldog. I know it must have been Miss Todd at the door who awakened the dog, because had it been anyone else the dog would have growled."

Walked to Garage

"But she didn't make any noise, or attempt to awaken me. Instead she must have walked up the hill to the garage in which she kept the car—the garage at the home of my estranged wife, Jewel Carmen, and getting in the car and becoming cold, started the motor."

"Perhaps she fainted; she had been subject to fainting spells."

DAVEY REFUSES AID FOR CONDEMNED NEGRO

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Gov. Martin L. Davey today refused to commute the death sentence of J. H. Thompson, 67, Hillsboro negro, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary here tonight.

The governor pointed out he could find no basis for Thompson's contention he shot Herbert Green, colored, in self defense. He cited Thompson's prison record, which included various sentences covering most of the period from 1891 to 1927 in Kentucky.

MICHIGAN VOTES TODAY; PENSION ISSUE FOREMOST

Main, G. O. P. Nominee, Campaigns Strictly on Townsend Plan Against Cavanaugh

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Political eyes of the nation were focused on the turbulent third Michigan congressional district today where voters, their ranks swollen by a small army of the aged, marched to the polls in a special election to choose a congressman and to provide an answer to the question—"How Strong Are the Townsends?"

Where in other years an election in the third district merely would have comprised a rubber-stamp approval of the G. O. P. candidate—the district has been rock-ribbed Republican for 35 years—the special election took on national political significance when the Townsend old age pension plan became the major issue.

Pension Mayor Topic

Although Republican Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, in an eleventh-hour appeal for support of the G. O. P., said President Roosevelt's policies were the chief issue, Verner W. Main, the Republican nominee, who is an avowed supporter of the Townsend $200-a-month pension plan, said the old age plan he advocated was the major question which the voters would pass upon. His adoption of the Townsend plan gave Michigan politics a new bad-fellow—the Republican-Townsends.

Opposite Main will be Howard W. Cavanaugh, the Democratic nominee, whose campaign for the most part has comprised vigorous attacks on the Townsend plan. Cavanaugh endorsed President Roosevelt's policies but not too strongly because he hoped to attract the large, conservative Republican vote which might veer away from the Townsend plan.

A third candidate in the race was E. G. Keifer, a dry cleaner and laundryman in the village of Homer who was nominated by the Farmer-Labor party but he was expected to receive only a comparatively small number of the total ballots cast.

If Main wins out in the balloting today, old-guard Republicans will persist in hailing it as a repudiation of the National Democratic administration. If Cavanaugh is elected, the Democratic leaders will be joyful, claiming a victory for President Roosevelt, but Cavanaugh's election can come only with the aid of conservative Republicans.

Stronger Republican

The district is as rock-ribbed Republican as the state of Maine. Even in 1932, when Roosevelt was swept into the White House on a landslide vote, it gave Herbert Hoover a popular majority. Then, approximately 99,000 votes of the registered 120,000 ballots were cast. The population of the district, comprising five counties, is about 270,000.

Hauptmann, offering him life imprisonment if he would "make a clean breast" of the whole story of the Lindbergh kidnaping and murder.

The governor declared, however, that in the main he attached little importance to Hauptmann's demand for the test. He pointed out:

"There was nothing in the way of evidence in the letter."

Tests Veracity

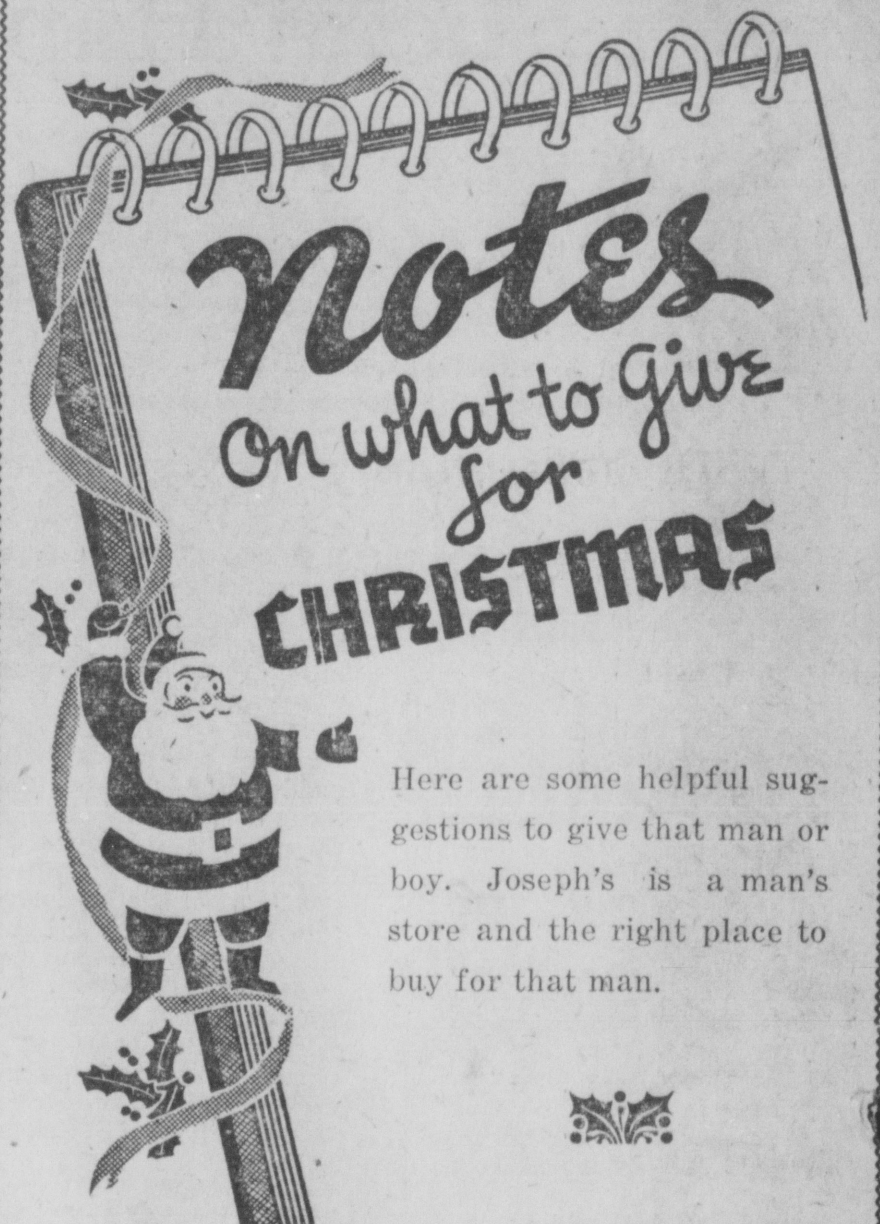

The lie detector is an instrument for registering blood pressure and respiration. Changes in pressure and breathing provide the clue to the subject's veracity, or lack of it.

Besides Hauptmann's letter the governor received a communication from the prisoner's mother, Mrs. Pauline Hauptmann, who lives in Kamenz, Germany.

She pleaded that her son be forgiven "minor transgressions" committed in Germany and that the governor save him from a death penalty brought about by circumstantial evidence.

AUTO DRIVER DEAD

NEWARK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—James A. Stone, 36, Newark, driver of an auto that collided two miles west of here last night with a bus driven by Kirby Clem, was dead today of injuries. The bus driver told deputy sheriffs that Stone, in turning into a filling station, drove his auto in the path of the bus. Neither Clem nor his four passengers were seriously hurt.

THELMA TODD DEATH PROBE CONTINUES

BLONDE ACTRESS THOUGHT VICTIM OF AUTO FUMES

Wife of Ford, Actor, Tells of Phone Conversation Sunday Afternoon

BODY FOUND ON MONDAY

Several Theories Being Prob-
ed; Locked Out of House,
Partner Says

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
A new mystery developed today in the death of Thelma Todd, gay blonde film comedienne and a cafe proprietor.

Mrs. Wallace Ford, wife of the motion picture actor, revealed she had talked with Miss Todd at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Until Mrs. Ford made her sensational disclosure to police detectives it was believed Miss Todd, whose body was found at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in a garage near her cafe, had been dead for more than 24 hours.

"We had invited Miss Todd to a cocktail party at our home Sunday afternoon," Mrs. Ford told the officers. "She telephoned me about 4 o'clock in the afternoon to explain she would be a little late,
and asking me if she could bring another guest. I told her 'that could be agreeable, of course. I know Miss Todd's voice, having talked with her frequently, and I can say definitely it was she who spoke to me.'"

Probe Extortion Notes

A revelation that Miss Todd had received fresh extortion notes recently caused the investigators to delve into every angle of her death before announcing final findings.

The officers also were investigating a report Miss Todd had been seen on Hollywood boulevard about 11 o'clock Sunday morning in an expensive tan
phaeton in which her body later was found.

The brain and heart of Miss Todd were to be examined today to complete the autopsy, first findings of which indicated she had been an accidental victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

County Coroner Frank Nance's autopsy surgeons announced they had found definite traces of carbon monoxide gas in the actress' blood. They also found that the ignition of her automobile was turned on, although the motor was not running.

Findings of the traces of the deadly gas revised an early police theory that Miss Todd had died from a heart attack. This was not abandoned altogether, however,
as Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Todd, Thelma's mother, told authorities
Thelma recently had been "turned down" by a life insurance company because of a heart ailment.

Four theories of the cause of death were under investigation.
They were murder, suicide, accidental death from the monoxide poisoning and death from natural causes.

Changes Theory

Mrs. Todd at first expressed belief her daughter had been murdered and then said:

"Perhaps a heart attack caused her death. Thelma had been turned down for life insurance because of her heart."

Roland West, movie producer and director, and friend of Miss Todd, said she never had climbed

Thelma Todd is shown, left, with her town car; center, with her former husband, Pat DeCicco; upper right, most recent portrait; below, Miss Todd's famous seasiment, at Santa Monica, Cal.

ALTHOUGH an immediate investigation was begun by Santa Monica, Cal., authorities into the sudden death of Thelma Todd, blonde screen comedienne, whose body was found in a garage near her famous seaside cafe, Casalamar, it was believed Miss Todd died of a heart attack. The actress recently was the recipient of extortion notes and veiled death threats, which were mailed either in San Francisco or New York. Threats to "blow up" her resort also were contained in the notes. Miss Todd, who recently divorced Pat DeCicco, first appeared in dramatic roles in the films, but her later work, in which she won great acclaim, was in comedy.

County to Receive More Tax Money Than it Paid

Estimates Show $160,936 to Be Allocated to Pickaway in Sales Tax; Collection $112,800

Pickaway-co will be one of the localities in the state which will receive more in sales tax distributions than was collected in the county.

In an estimate prepared by the sales tax division, county citizens will have paid out in sales taxes at the end of 1935 $112,800, but the total allocated back to the county will be $160,936.

With the exception of Mahoning,
other larger counties in the state will receive considerably less than was collected. Authorities explained that distributions to the counties are made on the basis of need and on one general formula applicable to all sections of Ohio regardless of the amounts collected. As a result rural and smaller counties have profited to an appreciable extent by sales tax revenue.

Estimated Figures

The allocations to Pickaway-co
based on estimates as of the end of the year, include:
Total collected, $112,800.
Total allocated, $160,936.
Schools, $76,445.
Government funds, $17,941.
Old age pensions, $46,778.
Poor relief, $1,559.
Relief bonds, $10,247.
Discounts, $3,496.
Administration costs, $4,468.
An example of how the more populous counties suffered is seen in figures for Franklin-co which will have paid out $2,619,680, while allocations total $2,768,762. Hamilton-co will have paid out $5,158-720, receiving $4,922,107; Cuyahoga will have paid out $10,022,000
and received $9,756,000.

Greater Yield Seen

The division estimated its total collections on the basis of the sales tax netting $18,000,000 for 1935. Next year, allocations back to the counties are expected to increase due to the more stringent provisions in the new law, which authorities predict will yield approximately 10 millions more in revenue.

LAWYERS SEEK 'DETECTOR' TEST FOR HAUPTMANN

Attorneys to Visit Bruno in

HOFFMAN GETS LETTER

German Asks That Condon
Also Undergo Examination of "Lie" Machine

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.— (INS)—Believed possibly to be on a mysterious mission in connection with Bruno Richard Hauptmann's attempt to escape
the electric chair for the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, Gov.
Harold G. Hoffman and Attorney General David Wilentz of New Jersey arrived here today.
Wilentz registered at a hotel
but Hoffman failed to register.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
Two important steps were to be taken today by Bruno Richard Hauptmann's lawyers in their desperate last-ditch fight to save the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby from the electric chair.

First they will visit him in his death house cell in Trenton to get his signature on the formal application for a hearing of his case by the New Jersey court of pardons.
Then they will make a formal request that the Bronx carpenter be given a "lie detector" test to aid the pardons court in its deliberations.

Would Include Condon

The request for the lie detector
test was made by Hauptmann himself in a letter to Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey, made public yesterday. The prisoner said he hoped this request might "inspire Dr. John Condon (Jafsie, of the ransom negotiations) to do the same."

Governor Hoffman, when questioned about Hauptmann's letter, intimated that he would favor allowing the prisoner to take the lie detector or "truth serum" test and take the findings before the court of pardons.

The executive also said he was thinking of "making a deal" with

army worker, died on the scaffold early today for the poison murder of her third husband, Tyrell, 36-dren, steadfastly maintained her innocence to the charges she fed Tyrell Tiltford poison so she would

OHIO STUDENTS MUST HONOR FLAG-BRICKER

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
Attorney General Bricker today ruled that boards of education in Ohio have authority to make and enforce rules compelling all pupils in public schools to salute the American flag and pledge allegiance to it.
His formal ruling to E. L.
Bowsher, state director of education, will enable school authorities to punish students for infraction of this rule the same as for disobedience to any other law of discipline. Informal opinions expressed by state officials previously inferred that educational officials are without authority to force pupils to obey such rules.

TOWNSEND CLUB SOUGHT IN CITY

Thomas Wright of Lancaster
Announced Friday Meeting

An effort will be made Friday evening to organize a Pickawayco Townsend club to boost the plan for age pensions.

Announcement of the meeting
was made today by Thomas O.
Wright of Lancaster, leader of the movement in this district. Mr.
Wright has been often mentioned as a candidate for congress on the Townsend platform.

The meeting will be held at 7:30
p. m. in the common pleas courtroom.
Mr. Wright has been successful in organizing several clubs in surrounding counties. There is already a nucleus for a club here with Samuel Lindsey, retired school man, in an active role.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
Dr. F. E. Townsend, elderly California physician and father of the Townsend plan which pays a federal pension of $200 a month to all persons over 60 years of age, today had challenged the Democratic and Republican parties to include his plan into their campaign platforms.

Unless one or both of the major parties adopt his plan, Dr. Townsend declared here last night, his organization will file third party
petitions in all states.

Dr. Townsend said he "hoped one or both parties would espouse
his cause."

Bitter Attack Made on His Peace Plan in Chamber

PARIS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
Premier Pierre Laval won a vote of confidence on the first count in the chamber of deputies this afternoon on the question of his foreign policy.
The vote was 310 to 250, the Ethiopian peace proposals being the main point at issue.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—
Aroused by a bitter attack upon his peace plan in the chamber of Pierre Laval this afternoon demanded the chamber give him a vote of confidence before he would leave for Geneva to take

Laval stated plainly he would stake his fate as Premier upon the issue of the widely-attacked peace proposals rather than go to Geneva without the support of the chamber, which had scored him bitterly for drawing up the plan.

EX-PRESIDENT FAVORS 4-POINT NATIONAL PROGRAM

HOOVER CLAIMS ADMINISTRATION HURTING NATION

St. Louis Scene of Talk; Waste, Folly, Chiseling, Corruption Expressions Used

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—The nation today considered former President Hoover's four-point program to replace the Roosevelt relief administration which, he declared, harbors waste, folly, chiseling and petty corruption.

In an address before the John Marshall Republican club here last night, the former president soundly and roundly flayed the administration, and with biting and bitter sarcasm aimed his vitriolic words at "the tragedy" of the administration's relief "wastes and follies."

Declaring that some increase in relief has been necessary since March 4, 1933, he said, "but an increase of 300 per cent in costs in the face of a 5 per cent decrease in unemployment load is significant."

"Poisoned With Politics"

Charging that relief bread is poisoned with politics, the former president offered as an alternative to the Roosevelt setup:

- 1. "Stop these wasteful federal public works projects; confine them to projects which meet the needs of the nation."
- 2. "Decentralize the administration of all other forms of relief. Turn them back to the states and local communities. Do it in joint co-operation with the governors, mayors and county authorities. Enlist again the voluntary services of American men and women on a non-partisan basis. Give such responsible committees as they create the entire determination of how it should be done. Allot to the states less than one-half the present funds being spent in the relief. Require the local authorities to find from their local funds at least 5 per cent as a check on waste. Require the state to do its share. Discharge most of the federal officials connected with these relief agencies. The unemployed will be better cared for than they are today."

Further Obligation

4. "We have a further obligation beyond relief to this ten million unemployed. True relief must come from honest productive jobs, not from public funds. Those jobs would return quickly if the currency were stabilized and this torrent of unnecessary expenditure were stopped and the budget were balanced. That would create confidence in the future. It would relieve the threat of inflation which demoralizes all business and sets up false recoveries. It would start men building again for the future. It would bring into action the vast amount of improvement needed in housing and in machinery, now being worn out through seven years of obsolescence. It would set free the energies of new enterprise. These people on relief have suffered enough from having playboys take America apart to see how the wheels go round."

Declaring "we have been governed by paradoxes and contraries and complexes," Mr. Hoover struck again and again at "the federal bureaucracy" which has found relief jobs "for over 140,000 new federal officials." In appointing these new federal pay-rollers, he said, the civil service commission was ignored by the Roosevelt administration "and the spoils system substituted."

CLOUDY WEATHER HOLDS SWAY OVER CIRCLEVILLE

Old Sol seems to have deserted Pickaway-co during the last month, according to the official records of Dr. Clark, weather recorder.

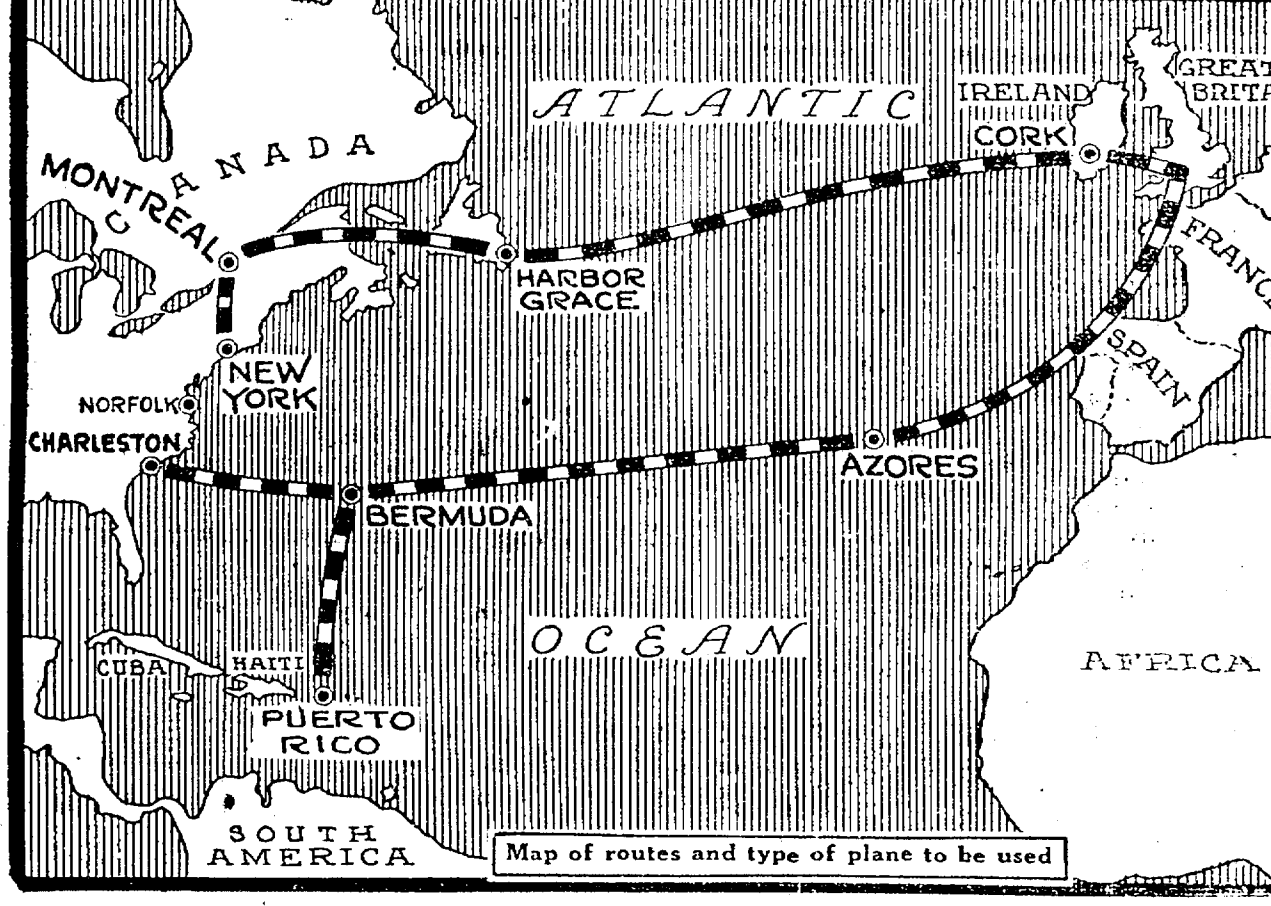

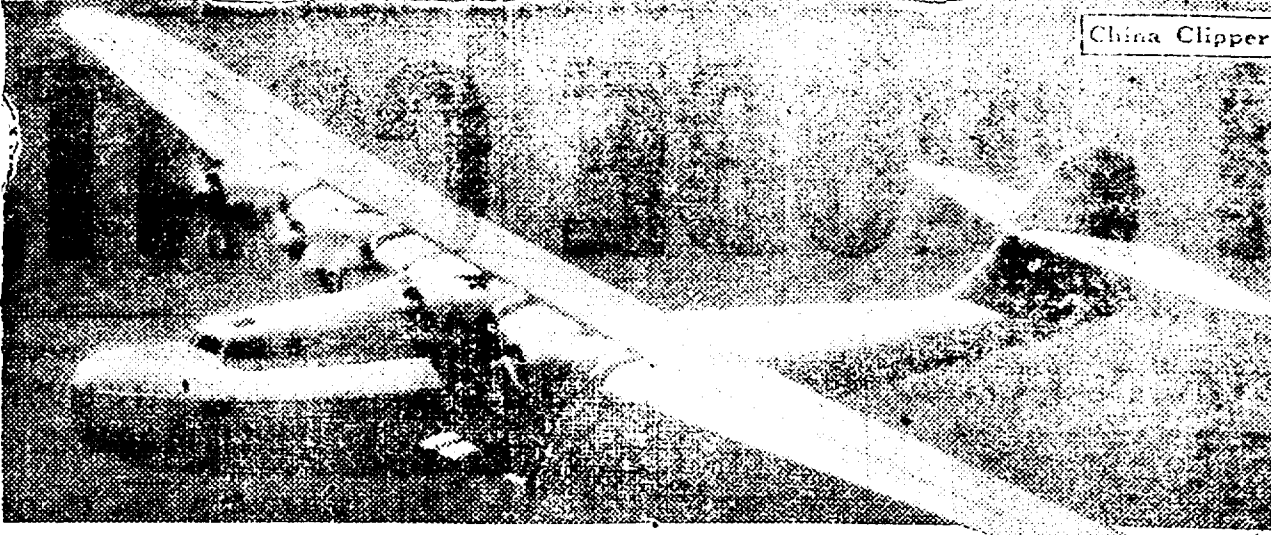

During the last 37 days, two have been clear, two partly cloudy, and the remainder just plain cloudy.

Dr. Clarke reports no similar period of cloudiness recorded on his records, covering 25 years. The temperature Tuesday morning was 31 degrees. The highest reading Monday was 37.

Regular Transatlantic Hops Nearer Realization

WITH the announcement from Washington of an agreement between the United States and England, Ireland and Canada for mutual exchange of landing privileges and other facilities the long-talked-about establishment of regularly scheduled air service from the United States to Europe approaches realization. Aviation authorities predict that experimental giant mail planes of the China Clipper type will be hopping back and forth across the Atlantic even as early as 1936. Two transatlantic routes are under consideration, a northern route via Harbor Grace, N.F., and a southern route to Bermuda, shown on above map. According to observers, four flights weekly eventually will be made. The northern (and shorter) route could be used in summer, the southern route in winter.

New Social Security Act

Explanation of Act Effective January 1 No. 4—OLD AGE PENSIONS

This is the fourth of six articles explaining the new federal social security act, which will go into effect Jan. 1.

Written for Central Press and The Circleville Herald

By DALE COX Financial Writer of Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is estimated that around 25,000,000 employees will qualify at the outset for the old age pension plan of the Social Security act. In 1937 these 25,000,000 employees and their employers will pay into the federal treasury around $500,000,000 in taxes. By 1949 they will be paying three times that amount, or $1,500,000,000, assuming as many employees are then paying under the act.

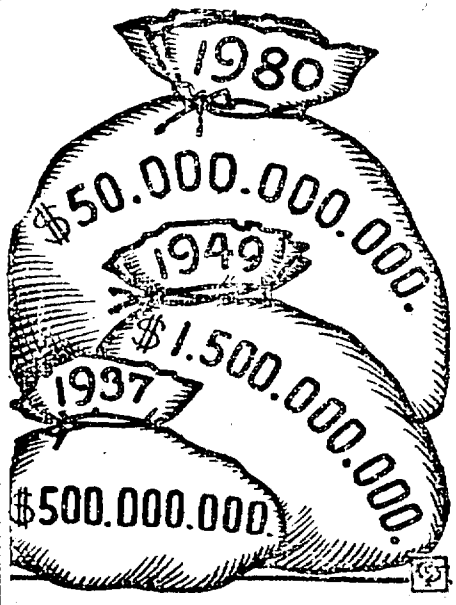

Naturally, many administrative problems come to mind. It is provided in the act that wages do not necessarily mean money wages. Other means of payment, such as grocery orders, factory houses or payment in the stock of the company, are to count as wages for purposes of the act, and someone must appraise the value of these wages in terms of money.

An elaborate and complicated arrangement is provided in case an employee dies while contributing toward an old age annuity and before he reaches 65. In that case his estate is paid a percentage of the total wage he has been paid from the time he began making old age pension contributions up until the time of his death.

Forces Retirement at 65 The act is deliberately framed to force the retirement of all workers at the age of 65. If a man reaches 65 and continues to work, under the act he loses one month of the pension due him each month he continues working after reaching 65.

Naturally, as the years go by, an enormous sum will be assembled under this act from the contributions of employees and employers. The size of the sum, of course, depends upon many uncertain factors. But it has been estimated that the sum, known as the Old Age Reserve Account, will be from $50,000,000,000 to $80,000,000,000 by 1950, assuming, of course, that the act is not repealed or changed for something else before that time. The act requires that the secretary of the treasury invest all the reserve funds of this account in interest bearing obligations of the United States on terms yielding not less than three per cent per annum.

Investment Difficult Inasmuch as the total national debt of the nation is now around $3,000,000,000, it can be seen how difficult it will be to invest $50,000,000,000 or more in government bonds by 1950. The fund might be large enough to swallow all the obligations of the government. In that case, the reserve fund would be nothing more than the financial stability of the government itself. Financial men declare that the very existence of this huge reserve fund, greater than all the reserve funds of the private insurance companies, would be one of the greatest financial dangers the nation ever faced.

Twenty-five million employees will qualify at the outset for the old age pension plan of the Social Security Act. In the year of 1937 these 25,000,000 and their employers will pay into the federal treasury approximately $500,000,000 in taxes. In 1949 that figure will reach $1,500,000,000; in 1950, $50,000,000,000.

This old age pension feature of the Social Security act is federal controlled. All collections of the tax will be made by federal employees. All record-keeping will be done in Washington. All payments and disbursements to beneficiaries will be made from a central bureau at Washington.

Thousands of Employees Needed When it is considered that payments will be made under the act by 25,000,000 different individuals, and by tens of thousands of employers, it may be seen how many thousands of employees it will require in Washington to administer the machinery of the old age pension section of the act. Assuming that one federal employee could take care of all the records necessary for 1,000 employees under the act, probably too high a figure, it would require 25,000 additional federal employees in Washington to administer the old age pension section alone. It looks as if the trek of workers to the nation's capital had only started.

So much for the old age pension section of the Social Security act.

Early Decision AAA Contest Seen in Capital

Holiday Vacation of Court
Limited to Two Weeks;
Ruling May Be Jan. 6

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—(INS)—The Supreme court today moved toward an early decision on constitutionality of the original AAA, but administration hopes rose for postponement of a decision on the amended law.

By clearing its decks of many noxious tax cases yesterday and limiting its Christmas recess to two weeks the court caused some observers to believe that the Hoosac mills case will be decided January 6. The Hoosac mills case involves the original AAA.

At the same time questions asked by justices during argument in the Rice Millers' attack on the amended AAA—designed by the court to cure earlier effects—indicated that the appeal may be rejected on technical grounds.

Follows Strategy
The possibility fitted in with the earlier strategy of administration lawyers. They invited an early start of the processing tax in the Hoosac mills case but fought early consideration of the amended AAA.

High administration officials have disclosed that if the court rejected the first AAA on the ground that congress delegated power to the secretary of agriculture, the AAA would continue until a decision had been given on the amended law.

Timely Suggestions For Holiday
Buffet Suppers

The holiday season will be made more enjoyable with the delightful buffet suppers and luncheons served by thoughtful hostesses. Make your buffet servings look more attractive and taste more delicious than any you have ever planned. Use new recipes for unusual ways of serving old buffet favorites. In the same old way, serve glazed deviled eggs. Make them like this:

- Glazed Deviled Egg
- 12 eggs
 - 1 tsp. mustard
 - 1/2 C. mayonnaise
 - 1/2 pk. lemon gelatin
 - 2 C. boiling water
 - Pimiento
 - Green pepper
 - Salt
 - White pepper

Slip eggs into a large quantity of boiling water and cover kettle. Cook 30 minutes, keeping water just below the boiling point. Remove shells. Cut eggs either lengthwise or crosswise. Remove yolks very carefully so as not to break the whites. Put egg yolks through a fine sieve, adding mustard, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Put into a pastry bag filled with a rose tube. Fill each egg white. Add boiling water to gelatin and set in the refrigerator to cool. When congealed to a jelly-like stage, pour a tablespoonful over each egg, and allow to set. Garnish each egg with strips of pimiento and bits of green pepper. Serves 12, allowing a whole egg to each person.

A sandwich loaf is a treat and is enjoyed equally by men and women. This recipe leaves nothing to your imagination:

Sandwich Loaf

- 1 loaf whole wheat sandwich bread, unsliced
- 1 loaf white sandwich bread, unsliced
- Butter
- 8 packages cream cheese (3 oz. pkgs.)
- 1 C. dates
- 1 C. chopped nuts
- 4 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- 1 C. mixed, cooked chicken
- 1 C. evaporated milk
- 1 small bottle stuffed olives
- 1 walk celery
- 1 green pepper
- Pimiento
- Mayonnaise

Remove the crusts from all sides of both loaves of bread. Cut lengthwise into slices about 1/2-inch thick. Use two such slices from each loaf to make a four-layer sandwich loaf.

Uncle Sam turns out new money for his citizens.

The new $1 bills being distributed to banks throughout the United States, but the backs—well—there's a new design on them. The new bill presents both sides of the great seal of the United States on the back. The obverse of the seal is the familiar eagle design with the motto "E pluribus Unum". The reverse, presented for the first time on any money, has as its motto "Annuit Coeptis" above and "Novus Ordo Seclorum" below, meaning, respectively, "He (God) prospered our endeavors" and "A new order of the ages." Government printing presses turning out the bills in Washington and the new designs on back of bills are shown above.

The junior and senior agricultural classes have begun work on the projects books. They will sum up their old ones and find out what their gain or loss is. This will test whether the improved practices which were used were of value to a boy or not. They also will purchase their new project books in which they will write their plan and agreement for the following year. They hope to have this done by Christmas so that they may start work on gas engines after the holidays.

The post has been receiving a lot of attention and there is much excitement among the agricultural boys. The juniors and sophomore boys are leading so far by about 300 points. The losing side will banquet the winning one.

Famed Band Of 58 Years Ago Shown

Enlargement Made of Wittich's Organization; Only Two Members Live Here

By FRANKLIN KIBLER

Fifty-eight years ago a Circleville band with the late T. K. Wittich as its director made musical history in Pickaway-co.

The organization, comprised of about 20 men, was considered one of the finest small town bands in the state. The band played in Dayton, Cleveland, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Washington C. H., Wilmington and many other cities.

Presented by Member
The band will be immortalized in a photographic enlargement presented to the public library last week by Edward Wittich, W. Main-st., a clarinet player in the band, and a brother of the leader.

The enlargement was obtained from a photograph owned by Col. C. E. Groce. The picture, taken in 1877, included the musical organization and the Circleville Guards of which Col. Groce was the leader. The enlargement of the band alone was made by the Steddom studio.

Mr. Wittich explained only two members of the band now reside in Circleville, himself, and Dr. E. J. Lilly.

Members of the original band were: Al Krimmel, Al and Rance Washburn, George Millet, E. J. Lilly, William Bauder, Franze Moeller, Ed Himrod, Elisha Himrod, David Beavers, R. P. Dresbach, William Veith, T. K. Wittich, M. Wittich, George Baker, Ed Wittich, Leonard Keller and John McCollister. Mr. Krimmel was the drum major.

Went to Washington
After the dissolution of the original Wittich band, Ed Wittich organized a band here that journeyed to Washington D. C. in 1902 with the Masonic Commandary of Columbus to participate in the tri-annual convale.

The gift to the Library is on display in the central hall.

HOODLUM AGAIN POINTED OUT AS EDITOR'S KILLER

Minneapolis Grand Jury to Be Called Today to Indict
Blumenfeld

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 17.—(17)—A second identification of Isadore Blumenfeld, alias Kid Cann, as the man who poured five machine gun bullets into Walter Liggett, crusading newspaper editor, will result in a request to the grand jury tomorrow to return a first degree murder charge against Cann, authorities indicated today.

Wesley Andersch, member of a prominent Minneapolis family, signed a statement last night, investigators said today, in which he positively named Cann as the killer of the editor.

Stood Near Auto

Andersch witnessed the assassination while standing but a few feet from the slayers' auto in the alley where Liggett was moved down as he stepped from his own auto with his arms full of groceries, police said.

Previously his widow, Mrs. Edith Liggett, had positively identified Cann as one of the two men in the death car. She was in the auto with their 10-year-old daughter Marda when her husband was machine gunned to death.

Cann, a notorious police character, had been held in custody since a few hours after the shooting last Monday evening, despite presentation of what police have termed "a good alibi." His alibi witnesses were re-questioned by police last night. It was after this further uzzing that officials indicated they would ask Cann's indictment.

In his statement, Anderson said he recognized Cann as they had been fellow workhouse inmates a year ago.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NEWS

Second Grade

The second grade will give a Christmas program with the first and third grades, Friday, Dec. 20.

We have a sand table fixed as Santa's home. It has a Santa, Santa's sleigh and reindeer and Santa's home. Snow is on the ground.

Christmas seals are given to all those getting above 70 in numbers. Seals are also given in spelling.

Fourth Grade

Gene Tosca has read all five of his reading circle books for this year. He has his five seasonal seals posted on our chart. Ethel Wallen and Helel Irwin have read three books each. Each child receives a certificate after having read at least three books.

In reading we are acting out the play from our reader called, "The Christmas Fairy and Scrooge" from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

For art we are making calendars and cards of brightly colored papers.

The Ashville high school boys basketball teams, played two basketball games over the weekend. The first was played against the Scioto boys and found the Ashville boys easily turning back the Scioto boys by a score of 49-17. The reserve boys also won in a thrilling game by a score of 10-9.

On Saturday night Ashville traveled to Groveport and took the decision from a hot Groveport team. The Groveport lads led the Ashville boys 15-9, at the half and it seemed as if they simply could not miss the basket. However, the Ashville boys came back strong and gradually overtook the Groveport lads, finally winning 29-26, in the most thrilling contest played by them to date. The second team, however, lost to the Groveport team 17-11, altho the score was a tie at the end of the first, second, and third quarters.

The Ashville girls broke even on these games, defeating their old rivals, the Scioto lassies, on Thursday evening and losing to the strong Groveport girls on Saturday night.

Friday evening of this week the Ashville boys and girls will meet the strong Kingston teams at Ashville.

The local P. T. A. will hold its December meeting Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Community Choir will give a program of Christmas music.

GOT THEIR MEN

ST. LOUIS—Two policemen on a downtown beat showed great alacrity in pursuing and capturing a couple of youths they saw fleeing with packages taken from a parked automobile. The car belonged to one of the policemen, Patrolman Claude Shephard. The packages were the property of the other patrolman, Donald Duley and contained a pair of his trousers and a dress belonging to his wife.

Christmas Celebrated for Two Weeks

But That Is In Sweden—and Oh, What Fun the Children Have, and the Grownups, Too!

"Yuletide market" in Stockholm is held the two weeks before Christmas at the oldest market place in the city, called Greatmarket.

Skansen's country Yule market with peasant girls in winter coats of lamb skin. The bearded boy in the background is dressed to play "Yule-tomte"—the Swedish Santa Claus.

Dalecarlian girl shown with straw goats she has made for the Yule market.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — No other country celebrates Christmas for such a long time and with such great festivities as Sweden. One of the brightest, gayest customs is the Yuletide market" in Stockholm. It is held the two weeks before Christmas eve on the oldest market place in the city, called Greatmarket. When Stockholm was built, about 900 A. D., Greatmarket was the largest open space in it. Today it is a tiny square too small for automobile traffic.

But at Christmas time Greatmarket becomes once more the heart of Stockholm, crowded with brightly lighted little stands with their home-made goods—decorated wooden toys carved by peasants during the dark winter evenings, copper pots and pans, home woven cloth and knitted mittens, and most important of all, the Gingerbread Stand, filled with big cookies made in the traditional shapes of goats, pigs, hearts, and little men and women.

As children we never left the market without a gingerbread man and a big paper covered candy with long fringes almost dragging on the ground.

Grownups Become Young Again

Even grownups forget their dignity and run from booth to booth calling and laughing to each other at the sight of a miniature spinning wheel, or a set of carved farm animals. The proper way to end a visit to the Yule market is by going to the City Mission, one of the finest old houses facing Greatmarket, for the traditional coffee and cookies—14 different kinds!

The Yule bargaining in Greatmarket which has gone on since Christmas since the early twelfth century, is completely a city affair. But to see a country market the Stockholmite need not travel far, just up a little hill in Stockholm itself, to the famous peasant museum Skansen. (The name means "battlement, for the hill is one of the old defenses of the city.) It is really wrong to call this whole community of peasant and Lapp homes a "museum," because life goes on there just as though Skansen were one big country village.

A Culture That Has Died

Many of the cottages and gardens on the hill cannot be found anywhere else in Sweden; they are part of a culture that has changed or died, but there are others that are faithful copies of homes existing today in Dalecarlia, the last stronghold of peasant tradition in the north. On Skansen live many natives of Dalecarlia, picturesquely dressed in bright peasant costumes. But even if they lived in an apartment the costume might be worn daily.

It is a strange sight when one of Dalecarlia's dignified members of parliament walks down the street, proudly but naturally dressed in the outfit of his province, long dark coat, bright yellow lamb skin vest and red tassels at his knees!

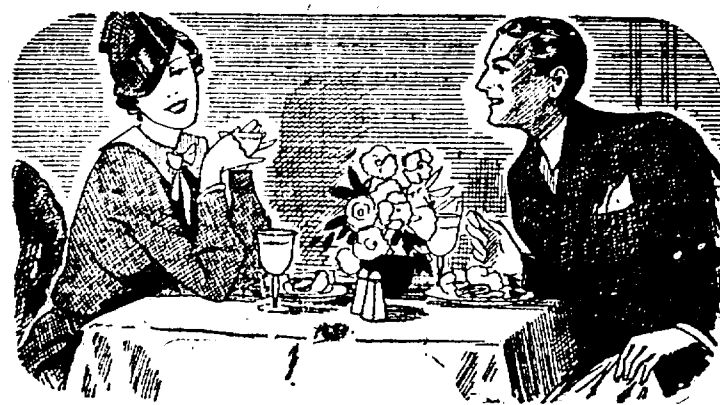

The Skansen peasants live as they might at home, baking, weaving, sewing, embroidering, and for Christmas holidays creating toys of wood and straw-goats. For even on Skansen there is a Yule Market each year.

The hilltop museum, 50 years old now, has celebrated this market for 30 years straight. This seems a small figure compared to the hundreds of years that the Greatmarket in the old city has gone on, but in fact Skansen's "country market" may well be older, for the people of Dalecarlia are almost as old as Sweden itself, and their wintermarket, at home or on Skansen, is a tradition going back long before "White Christ" came to the north. It has its roots in the great Midwinter Sacrifice to the sun, or Yuletide of the Vikings.

JURORS' REPORT NO INDICTMENT

Evidence in Harter Charges
Against Poulson Thin

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—If there is an investigation of State Rep. George Harter's charges that certain members of the legislature were offered state jobs to oppose his resolution for an inquiry into the liquor department, it will have to be ordered by Gov. Martin L. Davey who today showed no disposition to call for it.

After hearing evidence presented by the Akron assemblyman in support of his charges, the Franklin county grand jury failed to return indictments, deeming the evidence insufficient.

Harter, meanwhile, charged that agents of the governor, including Attorney Francis Durbin, Kenton, an ardent Davey supporter, have been in Akron recently asking permit-holders whether the blind assemblyman accepted a fee for helping to obtain permits.

KIDNAPED HIS WIFE

PANCHAREVO, Bulgaria — Keeping one's divorced wife under lock and key in a basement room for a year is the unique record established by a local man after she left him, he made many attempts at winning her back to him, but without avail. So one evening as she was leaving her house, he grabbed her and dragged her to his home. No one saw or heard and he kept her under lock for over a year. She would have remained under captivity longer had not a municipal assessor's committee come to inspect every part of the house and premises. In court the abductor pleaded that he had resorted to violence because he loved his wife and could not live without her. The court sentenced him to a year of imprisonment.

bright booths where hang the straw-goat images of the god Thor's own chargers, you feel that in this old, dark country the past never can die. The Yule markets in Sweden are an emblem of pride. America's pioneer and Indian past is of the same kind, centered around the one really American holiday, Thanksgiving.

HISS ODD NAME

HOUSTON, Tex.—"Inky," now four years old, is a hale and hearty boy today. The oddly nick-named child is the son of a Houston couple. He derives his appellation from the fact that he is this city's most famous incubator baby. He lived his first three months in the baby incubator at St. Joseph's Infirmary, taking food from an eye dropper because he was too small to be fed any other way. He weighed one pound and one ounce when he was born in November, 1931. Today he tips the scales at 40 pounds.

COW IN THE ZOO

PHILADELPHIA — For 142,000 Philadelphia children who have never seen a cow, the zoo is erecting a model one-half acre farm right in the famous garden. A survey, declared C. I. Cohee, executive secretary of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council, showed that that number of youngsters had no more idea what a cow looked like than—well, than a dodo bird. There'll be chickens, pigs, hay and everything, but the cow will be the feature attraction.

Elks to Have Annual New Year's Eve Dance

Bill Jordan's Band To Furnish Music For Gay Affair

Extensive preparations are being made by the Elks' club for a gala affair New Year's Eve at the club, when it will have its annual holiday dance.

Invitations will be sent to Elks who may also invite their friends. Joseph Adkins, Jr., chairman of the committee in charge, announces that they have secured the best orchestra they could possibly contract for this outstanding affair of the season.

Bill Jordan and his 10-piece band from Springfield, which features a girl vocalist, will furnish music from 10:30 until 2 o'clock. This orchestra is widely known and has played a number of engagements in the eastern part of Ohio, enjoying an especially good reputation in Dayton and Columbus.

The dance hall will be gayly decorated for the occasion by an interior decorator. Refreshments and a number of surprise features are being planned by Mr. Adkins and his committee comprised of Ben H. Gordon, Dr. G. D. Phillips, A. L. Wilder, Clarence Wolf and Julius Gordon.

Monday Club Meeting

The music division was in charge of the program following the business session at the regular meeting of the Monday club last evening in Memorial hall.

Miss Mary Radcliffe, chairman of the division, presented Miss Jane Mader, who read an interesting paper, "Music of Spain." She said in part:

"In Spain the love for music is everywhere evident and through it the Spanish people express their emotions, their love and passion, their beauty and staidness, their pomp and show, their joy and sorrow, their romance and tragedy, their tenderness and disdain.

"Vibrant and palpitating it touches our very souls, tinged as it is with all of the intoxicating spirit of a race in whose veins flow the blood of Iberian, Celts, Greeks, Romans, Goths, and Moors. Each province boasts a music peculiar to the region.

"The earliest Spanish music was that of the church and dates back to the seventh century. Following this an entirely different type of song and dance, that of the gypsies."

Mrs. Frank Kline sang one of these beautiful old love songs, "Querida" (My Darling) by A. Seismet Doia.

"The National characteristics flooded in their dance tunes. All and temperament is most truly reflected in the world dances in Spain and the guitar, tambourine and castanets are played with the dance.

"The compositions of Lecuona are recognized by all classes."

STEVENSON'S

COUNTY TO HIRE COMMODITY DIRECTOR

WPA TO FINANCE OTHER WORKERS NEEDED IN TASK

Surplus Supplies to Be Sent Here as Soon as Office is Assured

Preliminary steps toward formation of a county centralized relief agency, to handle the distribution of surplus commodity supplies sent in by the government, were taken by the county commissioners Monday afternoon.

The commissioners have agreed to organize the agency but have taken no definite action on the appointment of a case supervisor. Two persons are under consideration. The appointment must be sanctioned by the state relief department.

Under the federal setup, the commissioners name and pay a case supervisor and the WPA furnishes the additional employees needed to carry on the work. The commissioners also provide a warehouse for storage purposes and the use of a county truck for distribution.

A recent order from the state relief headquarters notified the various county boards that those who fail to set up agencies to determine the eligibility of relief cases will receive no supplies after Dec. 21.

Pickaway-co was one of the first counties dropped from the relief rolls and so far relief work has been handled through the subdivisions and commissioners.

me. Why don't you let me die. Be merciful to me."

But police, who hold the opinion that the hallucinations by drugs caused Miss Sevigny to give Mrs. Norman an ammonia dose as a "good deed," made plans for arraignment of the defendant on a murder charge.

Extra guards were posted at the cell of the nurse, who begged for the same death she allegedly gave her patient, to balk any possible suicide attempt. She probably will be examined by alienists.

One of her sisters is an inmate of the state hospital at Concord, N. H., and another sister died there a year ago.

"I killed her because I couldn't bear to watch her awful suffering and I wanted to help her." That, according to police, was the reason the nurse gave for administering ammonia to Mrs. Norman, sufferer from nervous trouble.

Other death cases being investigated were those of Mrs. Arthur Geninas, Mrs. Jacob Kane and Mrs. Frank Lanctot, all of this city. Massachusetts authorities were probing the death of Mrs. Frank Prince, of East Douglas, Mass. Police said Miss Sevigny acted as nurse in these cases. The bodies of the Woonsocket women will be exhumed.

Milne's family and the abductors had been agreed upon, but there were numerous indications that a break in the case was near.

Meanwhile a second ransom note was reported received by Caleb's grandfather in Germantown, Pa., directing that $50,000 be forwarded to the victim's younger brother, Frederic, in New York, in denominations of $10, $20 and $50.

Accompanying the note was a clipping from an Albany newspaper describing young Milne's disappearance. It was stained with blood.

At the Milne home in Thirty-Seventh street last night all way quiet. Frederic Milne and his mother apparently remained there until morning. Shortly before midnight, Frederic and a G-man went out for a brief walk, purchased a newspaper and returned. They were not seen to leave the house again.

Activity at Aunt's
At the home of Miss Anita Smith, Milne's aunt in Woodstock, however, there was considerable activity and an air of tenseness.

From top to bottom, the two story cottage was a blaze of lights. All night long automobiles laden with federal men and members of the Scotland Yard division of the state police crept through dark highways and byways in the vicinity of the cottage. In the cars of the federal men were machine and monitor guns, the latter capable of piercing thick plates of armor.

On the east bank of the Hudson, opposite Woodstock, a G-man was stationed in every village and hamlet. Poughkeepsie, from where the first ransom note was mailed, was a beehive of activity.

The latest note received by the missing youth's grandfather read: "One more false move and your name will be finish. Do as the letter says. If you fail, you will find me dead."

"Send $50,000, in denominations of $10, $20 and $50. Take them to New York. Grandson awaiting orders."

BLONDE ACTRESS THOUGHT VICTIM OF AUTO FUMES

the hill to the garage where her body was found because she feared the effect of the exertion on her heart.

In a startling statement to police West revealed he had "locked out" Miss Todd from her apartment.

"Thelma was a very stubborn girl; very independent," West said. "She had been getting home late and as it was necessary for me to stay up and let her in, I told her, when she started for the Cafe Trocadero Saturday night, that she should be home by 2 o'clock in the morning."

"Smiling, she told me she would be home at five minutes after 2 a. m."

West, who owns the building that houses "Thelma Todd's Side-walk Cafe" on the ocean front near Santa Monica, and who occupies an apartment in the cafe building, said that at 2 a. m. he locked the door.

"I stayed awake until 2:30 a. m., then retired," he said. "At about 3:30 I was awakened by the whining of my building. I know it must have been Miss Todd at the door who awakened the dog, because had it been anyone else the dog would have growled."

Walked to Garage

"But she didn't make any noise, or attempt to awaken me. Instead she must have walked up the hill to the garage in which she kept the car—the garage at the home of my estranged wife, Jewel Carmon, and getting in the car and becoming cold, started the motor."

"Perhaps she fainted; she had been subject to fainting spells."

DAVEY REFUSES AID FOR CONDEMNED NEGRO

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Gov. Martin L. Davey today refused to commute the death sentence of J. H. Thompson, 67, Hillsboro negro, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary here tonight.

The governor pointed out he could find no basis for Thompson's contention he shot Herbert Green, colored, in self defense. He cited Thompson's prison record, which included various sentences covering most of the period from 1891 to 1927 in Kentucky.

MICHIGAN VOTES TODAY; PENSION ISSUE FOREMOST

Main, G. O. P. Nominée, Campaigns Strictly on Townsend Plan Against Cavanaugh

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 17.—(INS)—Political eyes of the nation were focused on the turbulent third Michigan congressional district today where voters, their ranks swollen by a small army of the aged, marched to the polls in a special election to choose a congressman and to provide an answer to the question "How Strong Are the Townsends?"

Where in other years an election in the third district merely would have comprised a rubber-stamp approval of the G. O. P. candidate—the district has been rock-ribbed Republican for 35 years—the special election took on national political significance when the Townsend plan became the major issue.

Pension Mayor Topic
Although Republican Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, in an eleventh-hour appeal for support of the G. O. P. said President Roosevelt's policies were the chief issue, Verner W. Main, the Republican nominee, who is an avowed supporter of the Townsend $200-a-month pension plan, said the old age plan he advocated was the major question which the voters would pass upon. His adoption of the Townsend plan gave Michigan politics a new hsd-fellow—the Republican-Townsendsite.

Opposite Main will be Howard W. Cavanaugh, the Democratic nominee, whose campaign for the most part has comprised vigorous attacks on the Townsend plan.

A third candidate in the race was E. G. Keifer, a dry cleaner and laundryman in the village of Homer who was nominated by the Farmer-Labor party but he was expected to receive only a comparatively small number of the total ballots cast.

If Main wins out in the ballot-

ing today, old-guard Republicans will persist in hailing it as a repudiation of the National Democratic administration. If Cavanaugh is elected, the Democratic leaders will be joyful, claiming a victory for President Roosevelt, but Cavanaugh's election can come only with the aid of conservative Republicans.

Stronger Republican

The district is as rock-ribbed Republican as the state of Maine. Ever in 1932, when Roosevelt was swept into the White House on a Landslide vote, it gave Herbert Hoover a popular majority. Then, approximately 99,000 votes of the registered 120,000 ballots were cast. The population of the district, comprising five counties, is about 270,000.

LAWYERS SEEK

Hauptmann, offering him life imprisonment if he would "make a clean breast" of the whole story of the Lindbergh kidnapping and murder.

The governor declared, however, that in the main he attached little importance to Hauptmann's demand for the test. He pointed out:

"There was nothing in the way of evidence in the letter."

Tests Veracity

The lie detector is an instrument for registering blood pressure and respiration. Changes in pressure and breathing provide the clue to the subject's veracity or lack of it.

Besides Hauptmann's letter the governor received a communication from the prisoner's mother, Mrs. Pauline Hauptmann, who lives in Kamenz, Germany.

She pleaded that her son be forgiven "minor transgressions" committed in Germany and that the governor save him from a death penalty brought about by circumstantial evidence.

AUTO DRIVER DEAD

NEWARK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—James A. Stone, 36, Newark, driver of an auto that collided two miles west of here last night with a bus driven by Kirby Clem, was dead today of injuries. The bus driver told deputy sheriffs that Stone, in turning into a filling station, drove his auto in the path of the bus. Neither Clem nor his four passengers were seriously hurt.
